virtual author visits for schools

The directory of children's authors and illustrators who offer Skype visits to UK schools and libraries

Skype visits are a great way for classrooms to engage directly with authors and illustrators. Following the success of Skype school visits in the US, virtualauthors.co.uk has been set up to encourage more authors and illustrators to Skype with UK schools. Visit the site to find out which authors and illustrators are available to Skype with your key stage and for advice on setting up a virtual author visit for your school.
